PREFACE.

Not very long ago the reprinting of an old English Dictionary would have been considered absurd, but now the great value of these works has become more fully recognized. They are the rocks in which the old words of our language are found fossilized, and until these books are brought completely within our reach, the publication of the Dictionary of Early English, which we all so much desire to see, must be postponed. A Dictionary arranged according to endings is especially likely to contain a number of words which are otherwise unregistered, for the rhyme must have naturally brought to the recollection of the compiler many words of frequent use in conversation, which had not found their way into books.

My attention was drawn to this very curious and interesting English Dictionary by the note upon it in Mr. Way's preface to his invaluable edition of the Promptorium Parvulorum. Mr. Way refers to the copy in the Bodleian Library, but there is also one in the Library of the British Museum, and before going to press I was so fortunate as to meet with an imperfect copy, from which, when completed in MS. from the British Museum one, the present edition has been printed. Beside these three I have not heard of another copy. The original is a small quarto of nineteen sheets, printed in double columns.

It is, I think, impossible to read our author's preface and dedication without wishing to know more concerning him; but unfortunately nothing is known of his life, neither when he was born, nor where he died; and I am sorry that I can add nothing to the meagre account of him given by Wood, in the Athenæ Oxonienses, which is as follows:—

“Peter Levens, or Levins, was born at, or near, Eske, in Yorkshire, became a student in the University, an. 1552, was elected probationer-fellow of Mag. Coll. into a Yorkshire place 18 Jan., 1557, being then Bach. of Arts, and on the 19 Jan., 1559, was admitted true and perpetual fellow. In 1560 he left his fellowship, and one Thomas Dunne, M.A., succeeded him; but whether our author Levens proceeded in arts, or took a degree in physic, or was licensed to practise that faculty, it appears not in our registers. Afterwards he taught a grammar school and practised physic, which is all I know of him, only that he wrote and publish’d these things following, [then follow the titles of the Manipulus and the Pathway to Health].”

The reasons that Levins gives for compiling his Dictionary are straightforward; he will not take advantage of the plea frequently put forward, that he published only at the request of friends; but simply states that he found such a work wanted, and tried his best to supply the want. A low-priced Dictionary was required, so that “the poorer sorte may be able to bie it” (p. 2), for Maister Howlet’s Dictionary was “great and costly” (p. 7). Moreover, parents would wish that each of their children should have a separate book to learn from, for one book in common among many is “as if ye had but one toole to worke with in the mynt, which, whilst one workeman did occupie, al the other should be idle, and so the work go little forward” (p. 7). This book, like all works of the kind appears to have given the author greater labour than he expected, in collecting the materials. “For the gathering of oure Englishe wordes, and deviding of the same into this alphabet order of the last sillabls being a trade not of any man afore attempted, or by the other Dictionaries, anything to reckon up helped and furthered, must needs be a long travaile” (p. 6).

Of the arrangement by rhymes our author says: "It is necessarie for makers of meeter, so that it seemeth not only to redy him that maketh, but also to give him the way to learne the arte of the same" (p. 3). The critics appear to have been much the same in the old times as now, and we find that Levins feared that as "the world is now fine and disdainfull," he should be open to two kinds of censure, that is, if he did his work ill, he would be counted "rude and ignorant;" if well, he would be thought to be a fool for his waste of labour on such "a trifling thing."

The other work of our author appears to have been very popular in its day. It was first published in the year 1587, and was reprinted in 1596, 1608, 1632, 1644, 1654, and 1664, and its title is "A Right Profitable Booke for all Disease, called the Pathway to Health." The preface is written in the same style as that to the Manipulus. The author defends himself from the blame attached to writing in the vulgar tongue, and at the same time sets up a plea for English. He charges those who think books should be written in hard or unknown languages, and thus hide the knowledge of health from the people, as guilty of malice "exceeding damnable and devillish."

It would be a mistake to confuse such men as Levins, Huloet, Baret, and Cotgrave, with the "harmless drudges," who, in later times, followed the trade of Dictionary making. Nothing is more remarkable in the older dictionaries than the originality displayed in them. Their authors wrote out of the fulness of their knowledge, and the consequence is that their works teem with instances of their geniality and good sense. Unfortunately we know nothing of these men; their works remain as their only monuments, but every year as they become more known, more honour is given to the compilers for their labours. It is a satisfaction to assist in giving the authors of these useful books a larger audience. One hundred years, or less, after these books were published, many of them appear to have been forgotten. Poole and Bysshe had evidently never heard of Levins, and old Thomas Fuller, in his Worthies of England, makes the following odd remarks on Huloet's Abcedarium :—

“ Richard Huloet was born at Wisbeach, in this county [Cambridgeshire], and brought up in good learning. He wrote a book called ‘The English and Latin A.B.C.,’ and dedicated the same to Thomas Goodrich, Bishop of Ely, and Chancellor of England. Some will condemn him of indiscretion, in presenting so low a subject to so high a person, as if he would teach the greatest statesman in the land to spell aright. Others will excuse him, his book being though of low, of general use for the common people, who then began to betake themselves to reading (long neglected in the land), so that many who had one foot in their grave had their hand on their primer. But I believe that his book (whereof I could never recover a sight), though entitled an A.B.C., related not to literal reading, but rather to some elemental grounds of religion. He flourished Anno Domini 1552.”¹

The Manipulus has a double interest, as at once an early collection of English words, and the first Rhyming Dictionary. It cannot but surprise us to find that so early as 1570 there was a demand for such an assistance to the poetasters of the time. Although this work is small, and the author deprecates any intention of rivalry with Master Howlet's book, it contains a large number of words, and bears a very good proportion to the other old Dictionaries. The following is a rough calculation of the number of words in the various English Dictionaries compiled previous to the 17th century :—

	ABOUT
Ab. 1440. Promptorium Parvulorum . . .	12,000	words.
1483. Catholicon in lingua Materna . . .	8,000	„
1530. Palsgrave, Lesclarcissement. . .	19,000	„
1552. Huloet, Abcedarium	26,000	„
1568. Withals, Shorte Dictionarie. . .	6,000	„
1570. Levins, Manipulus	9,000	„

Baret's Alvearie (1580) contains only about 7,000 distinct words, but the peculiar feature of the Dictionary consists in the large number of phrases subjoined to each word, so that with them the number of articles rises to about 34,000. There are Indexes of Latin and French words, the number of the former is about 20,000, and of the latter about 9,000.

The Manipulus is arranged according to the order of the vowels and diphthongs, but in many instances the order has been broken into. The following are some of the misplacements:—At the end of the words under the heading ede (col. 52) are breadth and bedle; under em (59) are hempe, kembe, temple, tremble, etc.; in the middle of the words under ent, building has crept in (67. 25); under erre (83) some words ending in er are inserted, and also unsure; under tie (108) is flye; under ip (141) is Egypt; under out (167) is a mouth; under orl (171) is world; under oste (175) is apostle; under ungue (189) is bungle; under eague (206) is beagle; under sicame (208) is neamble; under east (212) is leashe. The words ed (48) and er (70) are mixed up in a very unsystematic manner. Besides these and other incongruities, several words are repeated under slightly different headings: thus many words under il (123-29) are repeated under able, ottle, etc. At col. 115 are four words under ict, and at col. 122 are four words under ickt.

This want of care in the arrangement of the words throws a doubt over the pronunciation and accentuation of some of them. The majority are accented in accordance with modern usage, but the following are some of those in which they differ.

(3. 19) dēlectable; (3. 21) éxcusable; (4. 23) inēxcusable; (13. 47) cāthedrall; (15. 22) spīrituall; (15. 40) supernatūrrall; (21. 46) ōbservance; (22. 2) persēverance; (29. 10) debōnare; (40. 47) pertūrbate; (57. 38) to quarēl; (66. 36) a parēnt; (68. 7) préferment; (70. 26) a preecept; (80. 27) a sojōrner; (82. 40) a désért, desertum; (102. 28) villānie; (106. 7-8) strawbéry and stráubery; (116. 11) to fórbid; (125. 7) a kettýl; (163. 31) a flagón; (172. 36) stubbórne. We have other authority for the accentuation of some of these words, but others would appear to be doubtful, and possibly may be misprints.

The substantive contráct (6. 18) has the same accent as the verb contráct (6. 22). It is generally supposed that the distinction now made between the substantive and verb in these and other words is of late adoption, but we find in this Dictionary a récorde (171. 18) and to recórde (171. 21), but the accent on the substantive may be misplaced.

It is difficult to form any idea of the pronunciation of the time from the arrangement of the words, because the spelling was probably more attended to than the rhyme. Although, however, no theory can be formed from the arrangement, it will be found useful as a corroboration of other works. The following are curious illustrations of contemporary pronunciation, if any reliance may be placed on their juxtaposition, as illustrating sameness of sound (5. 45-6), to ache rhymes with wache (vigilare); (11. 2) plague with wage; (161. 34) epitome with fathome; (182. 31) eunuche with suche; (222. 1) to lose with close. Ache, we know, was pronounced soft, but the others are singular. (217) The words bough, chough, cough, plough, slough, trough, through, roughe, tough, are arranged together, and it is not improbable that most of them were pronounced like ow. (209) Fryar, bryar, whyer, and deare, are brought together, and the first three were evidently pronounced as monosyllables, like dear.¹ Words spelt with the diphthong ou are

¹ Mr. Furnivall has kindly supplied me with a few quotations in illustration of the pronunciation of some of these words:—

“He siketh, with ful many a sory swough,
And goth, and geteth him a knedyng trough,” —Chaucer, The Milleres Tale.

Chaucer evidently pronounced enough as enow, for he rhymes it with bow and now—

“Adam lokede tho under woode bowgh,
And whan he seyh mete he was glad ynough.”
—In the Cokes Tale of Gamelyn.

brought together: (216) bloude, cloude, floud, (218) oule, soule, (220) bound, wound, (222) floure, poure, (230) southe, mouthe, smouthe. These were probably all pronounced alike, as we know pour was sounded like flour is now, and wound like bound.

Wh is generally used for qu, as (12) to whake for quake, (120) whick for quick, (209) whyer for quire. This is opposed to the Scottish practice of using qu for wh.

"And spending silver had he right y-nough, Therof no force; I wol procede as now."

—The Chanounes Yemannes Tale.

Skelton pronounced rough as row—

"Thow a Sarsens hed ye bere, Row and full of lowsy here."

—Poems against Garnesche, l. 124 (Works, vol. i. p. 123).

In the next quotation it may either be ow or uff:

"The weather was cold and even rough
The King and the Erle sate and lough."

—John de Reeve, st. 12 (Percy MS. vol. ii.).

In the following passage it is not clear what was Skelton's pronunciation of chough—

"The churlysshe chowgh
The route and the kowgh." [a bird.]

—Phyllip Sparowe, l. 448 (Works, vol. i. p. 64).

The following quotation shows that tough and slough were pronounced ow; plough frequently rhymes with inough in this poem:—

"I stode and behelde the bestis well drawe
To ere the londe that was so tough;
Than to an husbond I sed this sawe,
'I pray to God, spede well the plough.'

By downe and by dale and many a slough;
Therefore it is nedefull for to saye,
'I praye to God, spede wele the plough.'

—God Spede the Plough (Lansd. MS. 762, fol. 5. Skeat's P. Pl.'s Crede).

The following two passages from Bishop Percy's Folio MS. show the pronunciation of bryar and fryar—

"They cutt them downe the summer shroggs

Which grew both under a bryar, & sett them 3 score rood in twinn to shoote the prickes full neare."

—Guy of Gisborne, l. 111, vol. ii. p. 232.

"Thou cursed boy! cryed out the fryar, heere I doe summon thee to appeare."

—Fryar & Boye, l. 400 (Loose Poems, part i. p. 24).

Such is the book of Peter Levins, a man who, three centuries ago, tried to popularize learning, and to supply the world with cheap books; the following passage from his Dedication (p. 7) might serve as a motto for us: "Like as if no man should worke in the mint, but such as brought with them golden hammers, ye should have little worke done, whilst poore men that for neede would labour, could not have suche tooles to worke withal, and the rich which peradventure could have them, yet for their accustomed ease and idle occupations, would take little paines therewith." The "Camden," the "Early English Text," and similar Societies, have been established to procure iron hammers for workmen, as opposed to the expensive Societies which print for the few, and care only for golden ones.

Having noted some peculiarities of this, the earliest of the Rhyming Dictionaries, it will not be uninteresting to give a short account of those which have succeeded it.

Eighty years elapsed before any one attempted an arrangement of words on the same system as that of Levins. In 1651 Thomas Willis published the following work:—

Vestibulum Linguae Latinae. A Dictionarie for children, consisting of two parts:—1. English words of one syllable alphabetically with the Latine Words annexed. 2. Words of more Syllables derived from the Latine words adjoined. Containing near ten thousand words, besides thrice that number derived from, or known by them. Such who have lost what they learned at school may hereby find much help. Also those not brought up to the knowledge of the Latine tongue may here find interpreted words often used in English books and sermons. The further use and method of this work is set forth in the preface. By Th. Willis, of Thistleworth, in Middlesex. Being the fruit of above forty years experience in teaching school. London, 1651. 12°.

The first part consists of about four thousand monosyllabic words arranged in an alphabet of rhymes. The words in the second part are arranged in three columns, the first consists of an alphabet of Saxon words, the second their synonymes from the Latin, and the third the Latin words themselves. There is a third part, containing the words derived from the Latin, with their Saxon synonymes.

The first part is very valuable as a guide to the pronunciation, because the words are arranged according to their sound, and not according to their spelling. The author thus explains his system in the preface :—

“ We find also other words written alike with the same characters, and yet differing in their sound and pronunciation. Such are these following :—A bow, arcus ; a crow, corvus ; a blow, colaphus, &c., all pronounced as no, minime ; whereas these words : to bow, flectere ; a cow, vacca ; how, quomodo, &c., are pronounced like thou, tu. Many of these sorts will be found in this first alphabet, which to be skilled in will prove a great ornament in a youth, when by dayly exercise in this first part, and by queries one of another, how this or that word is spel'd, they shall grow expert in this kinde. Hence observe that in our rimes we have of purpose generally referred the single words rather to the alphabet of the rime than to the writing, as in our Dictionaries.”

Under O are these words :—To owe, a bowe, a blowe, a doe, a foe, loe, to lowe, etc. Under ow the following : a bough, a brough, a cow, to mow struere, now, a plow, etc. A dov, columba ; a glov, chirotheca ; to shov, trudere, are distinguished from a drove, a grove, to rove.

The value of this Dictionary will be seen from the following words, which are arranged according to the sound, and not according to the spelling :—

To bait, eight, a plait, to sleight negligere, to wait.

A combe, to combe, a wombe, foame, home.

Sole, soul, scrowle, toll.

To quaffe, a staffe, to laugh.

To conne, to donne, John.

A flea, a keie, the.

Six years after the publication of Willis's work appeared another Dictionary by Joshua Poole :—

“The English Parnassus: or a Helpe to English Poesie: containing a short Institution of that art; a Collection of all Rhyming Monosyllables; the choicest Epithets and Phrases, with some general forms upon all occasions, subjects, and theams, alphabetically digested. By Josua Poole, M.A., Clare Hall, Camb. London, 1657. 8°.”

At the beginning of this work are about 3,500 words arranged in an alphabet of vowels.

In 1702 appeared the first edition of Bysshe's popular work: “The Art of English Poetry. By Edw. Bysshe, Gent. London, 1702. 8°,” of which the second part is entitled “A Dictionary of Rhymes.” This contains between four and five thousand words, and would have been much larger had the author not purposely omitted many sets or classes of words, such as low, vulgar, and obsolete words; words ending in ble, cle, dle, etc., asm, ism, osm, besides others, the reasons for whose omission he has explained in his preface. In 1714 Bysshe published another work, entitled :—

“The British Parnassus, or a Compleat Common Place Book of English Poetry. . . . By Edw. Bysshe, Gent. London, 1714. 2 vols. 12°.”

These were reprinted as the third and fourth volumes of “The Art of English Poetry,” which had been republished in two duodecimo volumes. At the beginning of the first volume is an entirely new Rhyming Dictionary :—

“A Dictionary of Rhymes, collected from the works of the late Mr. Dryden and other the best poets.”

This is larger than the former collection, and is arranged in a totally different manner. It contains between eight and nine thousand words. The author thus speaks of it in his preface :

“In regard to the Dictionary of Rhymes, it is not only much more copious than, but likewise much different from, any yet extant: for those we have hitherto seen contain only some words that rhyme perfectly to one another, and consequently teach us in effect only what rhyme in general and in strictness is; and no poem, tho' but of a moderate length, was ever yet compos'd of such perfect Rhymes, nor will the genius of our language admit of it: but this shews in particular the rhymes that are allowable in the English poetry, giving more especially those that are used by the late Mr. Dryden, and our other best poets; who, without pretending to the gift of prophecy, we may venture to say will ever be the standard of English Rhyme."

In 1775, Walker, the celebrated orthoepist, published his Rhyming Dictionary, which was formed on an entirely new system. The book is entitled—

"A Dictionary of the English Language, answering at once the purposes of Rhyming, Spelling, and Pronouncing, on a plan not hitherto attempted . . . and for the purposes of Poetry is added an Index of allowable Rhymes with authorities for their usage from our best authors. By J. Walker. London, 1775."

The words are arranged, not as in the works of the authors previously mentioned, in an alphabet of endings, but in the complete alphabetical order of our ordinary dictionaries reversed. Thus the words are arranged in an alphabetical sequence of their last letters, then that of the last but one, and so on backwards to their first letter, and by this means all the words in the language of similar endings are collected together, whether they rhyme or not, and the words that have no rhymes can thus be discovered, as well as those that have. This work contains upwards of thirty-four thousand words, and from its fullness has completely superseded all other collections of the kind. It has been frequently reprinted, and the last edition is one edited by Dr. Longmuir, and printed in 1866. Subjoined to the Dictionary is "An Index to all the perfect rhymes of a different orthography, and allowable rhymes of a different sound, throughout the language; with authorities for the usage of them from our best Poets," on the plan of Bysshe, and others. This Index contains about seven thousand words. In the preface Walker says, "An Index to allowable rhymes is an attempt perfectly new," but we have seen from Bysshe's second Dictionary that this claim is not in accordance with fact.

In 1776 was published,

"The Beauties of Poetry : or a Portable Repository of English verse on an entire new plan ; in three books. By William Le Tans'ur. Cambridge, 1776."

which contains between five and six thousand words, arranged in an alphabet of final syllables. Instead of being on a new plan it is copied from Bysshe, but has explanations added to the words as in Walker.

The voluminous Dr. Trusler attempted a work of the kind, which he entitled,

"Poetic Endings : or a Dictionary of Rhymes, single and double ; more copious than any collection yet published : comprising nearly all the words in the English Language, and regulated by the best modern pronunciation. By the Rev. Dr. John Trusler. London, 1783. 8°."

This book is arranged by final syllables, but on a slightly different system to that adopted in the other works previously mentioned. It is difficult not to admire the audacity of a man, who, though following Walker, can still speak of his little book as the most copious collection extant. It contains about 12,000 words, which are certainly not "nearly all the words in the English language."

I cannot find any notice of a Rhyming Dictionary after Trusler till the year 1852, when was published :—

"Rhyming Dictionary for the use of Young Poets, with an Essay on English Versification, and explanatory observations on the selection and use of Rhymes. Edinburgh (J. Hogg). [1852]. Second Edition. Edinburgh [1856].

This work contains about 9,000 words arranged according to the final syllables. No explanations are given, but a few illustrative quotations are added.

The following is a chronological table of the foregoing Dictionaries :—

In the year 1805 W. P. Russel, who gloried in the title of “The Verbotomist,” published the following curious work :—

“Verbotomy: or the Anatomy of Words; shewing their component parts; being an elegant specimen of what may be accomplished in the arrangement of Language, whereby more scientific knowledge of its principles may be obtained in a short time, than from any work hitherto printed; such, at least, is the opinion of W. P. Russel, Verbotomist or Word-Dissector. London, 1805. 8°.”

It is divided into two parts, viz., the Adjectiviad and the Substantiviad. The arrangement followed by the author is thoroughly original, and requires to be seen, as it cannot well be understood by description. Mr. Russel appears to have been very proud of the perfection of brevity to which he had arrived in this book, and says :

“I challenge the Universe (or the literati of each quarter of the globe) to produce any page, exhibiting brevity and perspicuity equal to the two columns in page 52. They cannot do it, at least no such book has ever been before me. I should be glad to see the work that equals Verbotomy in this respect.”

As the words are arranged according to their final syllable, the work partakes of the character of a Rhyming Dictionary; and this the author points out at page 32 :—

“And to speak of it as the title expresses by the word Rhythmical, it is in fact a Rhyming Dictionary, with which avowal I here close the notes.”

It is necessary, in concluding this preface, to make a few remarks on the present edition of Levins's Manipulus, which I have endeavoured to make a faithful copy of the original. The arrangement might have been improved in several places, but had alterations been made, the result would have been a different work from that published by its author. I have added a list of some of the Latin words that appear to be incorrect, and also a complete Alphabetical Index to the English words, which renders the re-arrangement of the original unnecessary. I have also subjoined explanatory quotations from other Dictionaries, etc., to those words that seemed to require them, leaving the common words without explanation. Where two or more English words were alike, and required to be distinguished, the Latin words have been frequently added; also when there was a difficulty in the exact meaning of a word, it has been thought best to give the Latin equivalent. A middle column of numbers has been added to the Dictionary, by means of which a reference to the exact position in the page of each word (an object of great importance in the saving of time and trouble in such matters) has been able to be made in the Index.

In this Index I have noticed only the meaning used in the Dictionary, and have paid no attention to any other meaning that the word might possess. Thus wanhope is explained by falsa spes, and two quotations are given in the Index with that meaning, but no note is taken of the more common use of the word as “despair.” Again, “by flock meale” is explained by minutim, and for want of a better word I have added in the Index “piecemeal” as its synonym. The A.S. flocmælum means "by flocks," the idea intended being, of course, that of a division. It infers a series of flocks or companies, and not one flock or mass. Tyrwhitt and Wright explain the word as meaning "in a flock," and so it appears to be used by Chaucer in the following passage :—

"Wel neigh al othir cures let he slyde,
 And eek he nolde (that was the worst of alle)
 Wedde no wyf for no thing that mighte bifalle.
 Only that poynt his poeple bar so sore,
 That flokmel on a day to him thay wente,
 And oon of hem, that wisest was of lore,
 (Or elles that the lord wolde best assente
 That he schuld telle him what his poeple mente
 Or ellis couthe he schewe wel such matiere)
 He to the marquys sayd as ye schuln hiere."

—The Clerkes Tale, ll. 26-35 (Chaucer's Poet. Works, ed. Morris, 1866, vol. ii. pp. 280-1).

Morris glosses the word as "by companies," in accordance with the meaning of the original Saxon.

My best thanks are due to E. R. Horton, Esq., Vice-Master of University School, London, who most kindly read through the proofs of the Dictionary, and assisted me with many valuable corrections.

When the Committee of the Early English Text Society resolved to print this work, Mr. H. T. Parker kindly placed a MS. copy, which he had had made, at their disposal.

A Dictionarie of English and Latine wordes, set forth in suche order, as none heretofore hath ben,
the English going before the Latine, necessary not onely for Scholers that wāt varietie of words, but also for such as vse
to write in English Métre.

Gathered and set forth by P. Lewins,

ANNO 1570.

For the better vnderstanding of the order of this present Dictionarie, read ouer the Preface to the Reader, and the Epistle Dedicatorie, and thou shalt finde it easie and plaine, and further thereof thou shalt gather great profile.

THE PREFACE

to the Reader.

SO many Dictionaries of Latin and English (gentle Reader) haue now béene of late by diuers sundrye writers set forth, that except some kind of Noueltie should bring delite to the peruser, and some present profite also giue hope and courage to the same, it should be but a vaine thing, and counted but as lost laboure, in so common a kind, and in so familiar a matter, to reasume again, & to begin a new, y^e thing so often preuented. Wherefore I thought it good & expedient, at the beginning briefly to let thee know and vnderstand what and how many commodities, besides other dictionaries, seeme to be contained in the compendious compasse of this little booke, that thy hope may be certaine. Considering therefore, that whereas he that writeth, meaneth euer to pleasure some body, or to profit many: and yet so that he may satisfy the best, and helpe them that haue most neede, and séeing that the same thing then also commeth commonly to passe, when in the least charges and paines, most profit & pleasure redoundeth to the perusers, therefore two things be here to be considered: first that the quantitie is small, so that the price being little, the poorer sorte may be able to bie it: the other, that in the qualitie & fourme of the little quantitie, as it is denised, be moe commodities, (than in the common sort be founde) to be receiued: as for the quantitie, thou séest what it is, certainly (as I call it) Manipulum, so it is but an handfull: but as for the qualitie wherein the vertue is contained, mo peraduenture than thou wouldest easily thinke to be in so little a booke that is hid from thee: what (sayest thou) & how many? surely these. First y^t for the pleasantnesse of the metre, delectable & pleasant to reade (as it is in other tongs) both the wits be delited and comforted, and the memorie also is nourished and confirmed, so that a learned friend, being consulted concerning the edition hereof, said that it would not only helpe them that were willing to learne, but also which is most necessarie in the negligent & unwilling youth, it would exciteate & stir them vp, so that they would be willing to reade and to learne of them selues. Secondly wheras it foloweth the alphabet of the order of the last sillible (for ther is an alphabet well nigh as easie to be followed of the last sillible as of the first) it commeth to passe, that when al the simple and vncompounded words be recited, and so many also of the compounds and Deriuatiues as we thinke necessary and conuenient, all the other, whether they be of Substantiues and Adiectiues out of Uerbes, or they be of Substantiues & Aduerbes out of Adiectiues, or they be of Adiectiues out of Substantiues, or fynally of Substantiues out of Substantiues, & of Adiectiues out of Adiectiues, and so forth of the rest, all the same I say by the rule of the Termination, in whiche the Art of Deriuing and Compounding for the most parte doth consist; wherein also the chiefe pointes of our Grammer, where vnto the amplification & variation of our tong doth also properly belong, be here in many diuerse precepts, as their places require, set forth & considered. Thirdly, it is necessarie for makers of méter, so that it séemeth not only to redy him that maketh, but also to giue him the way to learne the arte of the same. Fourthly, wheras the chiefe grace and facilitie of our Englishe tong, doth cheefly consist in long sillable and short, and in the true pronouncing & writing of the same, and namely in the end of words, whervnto we haue most respect in this little worke, hereof it commeth to passe, that as wel children and ruder schoolers, as also the Barbarous countries and ruder writers, may not a little (if they wil enioy the offered occasion) well and easely correct and amend, both their pen and speache. Fynally, wheras in the Pollisillables, by diuersitie of pronounciation, and voyce of great accent, oftentimes one worde maye haue diuers significations, as, differ, differre, id est, prolongare: and differ, differre, id est, discrepare, and such other, we haue commonly set the accent, which is onely acute, in that place, and ouer that vowell, where the sillable must go vp & be long. And so in conclusion, whatsoeuer belongeth to the thrée chéefe poynts of Grammer, or Orthógraphie, Etimologie, & Prosodie, there is little here omitted, that in suche a worke can be required: wherfore if thou be minded to peruse this little booke, in consideration of these commodities that we haue described: then for thy better instruction in the order and vse of the same, peruse first these articles and notes following, and so proceed to thy pleasure and profit. Amen.

Notes for the vse of the booke.

First note that this Booke is deuided into ix. partes, according to the ix. vowels, which come before the consonant in the last sillable; of the which vowels, these fyne be simple, a, e, i, o, and u, & these four, ay, ea, oy & ou, be Diphthongs: Note also that the Diphthongs be alwayes long, and that the other be alwayes short, except that after a single C consonant, this letter, e, be the last letter of a word, for then the letter (e) is not the vowel of the sillable, but it is only added at the end, to make the sillable afore it to be long: as in these abe, ebe, ibe, obe, ube, (e) is only put to make the other vowels long with (b) which else should be short if (e) were away, as these ab, eb, ib, ob, ub, &c. whiche also be short, if it be a double consonant though (e) do follow, as, abbe, ebbe, ibbe, obbe, ubbe, and ab, eb, ib, ob and ub, be all one. Note thirdly, that first we set the short sillables and then the long, yet with this difference in both places, that first all the monasillables be by themselves: yea & in either of these first all Substantiues by them selues, afterwarde all Verbes by them selues, and finally all the adiectiues and other od parts of speech, eche kind by them selues. Fourthly note, that whereas some Terminations haue two or mo consonantes in the sillable after the vowell, thou must follow the vowell, and the first consonant after it, as in these, *an, anee, anche, ande, ange, angue,*¹ &c. followe the alphabet of A, Ante V and thou shalt not misse him in his place. Fiftly note, that when as some words here contained be either barbarous, straunge, or fallen out of vse, we haue not much put them in as imitable, but rather that the rude may reforme their tong, and that the Readers of suche bookes, may here learne what the wordes meane, and for that end we haue interpreted such words, as kirke, church, myrke, darke, ken, know, and such other. Sixtly, if any word be in diuers clause, the same is witingly doone, in respect of diuerse kindes of writing, both which are in vse, and likewise when one word hath diuers significations we haue by adding some word to both in English and Latin, Distincted and expounded the same, as the Gout in the hands Chiragra, the Gout in the feete Podagra, a Pike for the eares, técth, &c. scalprum, a Pike pricke, stimulus, a Pike fyshe, Lupus flauialis.

Finally wheras the declension, gender, or coniugation is sometimes hard to know, we haue in the Nownes expressed the genetiu case, encreasing long with this circumflex (ó) signifying to be declined with hæc, except an other article be expressed: and the genetiu case encreasing short with this accent called graue (ó) signifying to be declined with hiæ, except an other article be expressed: all other that haue neyther of these do not encrease, and be declined with hæc:

except they end in, er or us, (for then they be hiæ) or in um, and, e, (for then they be hæc) or haue some other article expressed.

And to know the coniugations: we haue set ouer (e) the infinitiue moode of the seconde coniugations, this circum-flex (é) as docére, merére, and ouer (e) the infinitiue moode of the thirde, this accent graue (é)

as agére, fynally if any Verbe end not in ari, éri, nor éri, but only in (i) as frui, it is the infinitiue moode of the third coniugation of some Verbe in (or).

To the right worshipful M. Stanley

Treasurer of the Queene her Maiesties Mynt P.L. wisheth helth, and all true felicitie.

IT is the manner of some writers (right worshipfull) when they will set foorth some péece of worke, that they haue compyled or made, to excuse the rashenesse of the edition thereof, as béeing by their friends counsell, or for some other cause, now moued to commend & commit that to the vse or iudgement of many, which at first they thought should be but a priuat exercise to them selues, or some priuie pleasure to a few. This thing whether they all do in simplicitie of hart & sinceritie, or some of them for some other cause, I cannot iudge, but I do excuse my selfe that I do not follow the lowe steps of such humilitie, because the truth is in déed, that at the beginning, when I first began to collect this booke, which I haue now at last after a long time, and with much more laboure and paines, than ye can possibly thinke, contriued and brought to some perfection (for the gathering of oure Englishe wordes, and deuiding of the same into this alphabet order of the last sillabls, being a trade not of any man afore attempted, or by the other Dictionaries any thing to reckon vp helped & furthered, must néeds be a long trauaile) I thought and did alway entend, with so much spéd as I could, to publishe and set abroad the same, as well for the commodities in the preface to the reader contained, as also for conscience sake, thinking that wher I haue bene long conuersant in the schooles, and haue from tyme to tyme lamented to sée the youth of our Cuntry (in the studie of the Latin tong) lacke such little instruments, as this fit and néedful for their exercises, and sawe no man set his hand to the same, I was bound for the portion of my small talent to do somewhat therin, though I knowe that I shoulde for my laboure, ieopard one of these two displeasures: either if I did it not well, (for the world is now fine and disdainefull) to be counted rude and ignorant, or else I did neuer so well (being harde to escape euill tongues) to be esteemed a foole, as one that for suche a trifling thing as this, with lesse profyt and more paines, would forsake a better and more worthie study, with lesse trauaile and more gaynes. Yea and some will say more ouer, that it is a superfluous and vnnecessarie labour, to set forth this Dictionarie, for so muche as Maister Howlet, hath sette forth the so worthie a worke of the same kinde already. But I answere, that though it be a worthy worke in déede, as it is most worthie, and be also of the same kind in generall, & yet it is neyther of the same kind in speciall, nor to the same purpose deuised in many things, for his is great & costly, this is little & of light price, his is for greter students, & them y^t are richable to haue it, this is for beginners, & them that are pooreable to haue no better, his is ful of phrases & sentences fit for them y^t vse oration & oratorie, this is onely stuffed full of words, & the vse thereof fit for them that are not yet come to better exercises, who if they should haue no Dictionarie at all to help them forward, til such time as they were able to haue one to vse, the other, & ther be no more to be had but halfe ones that be to no good purpose, what time should be lost? what years should be spent? surely not a little: like as if no man should worke in the Mint, but such as brought with them golden hammers, ye should haue little worke done, whilst poore men, that for neede would labour, could not haue such tooles to worke withal, & the rich which peraduenture could haue them, yet for their accustomed ease & idle occupations, would take little paines therwith. Neither can they wel say, y^t though euery scholer may not priuatly, haue this great Dictionarie, & enioy her priuatly to him self: yet euery schoole hath or may haue one of them in common, which may serue for them al, for neither will all parents so agré to haue one for all: and if they would, yet it should be such a like thing, as if ye had but one toole to worke with in the mynt, which whilst one workeman did occupie, al the other should be idle, and so the worke go little forward, and surely by copie of Dictionaries, are copie of wordes coyned in our schooles. But I néede not much contend in this matter being playne inoughe of it selfe, nether do I so muche care for any of the thinges aforesaide, either profit or paine, tauntes or di-daine, foolish-nesse or finenesse, or for any of other such like vanities, as I do (let them say what they wil) for my dutie towards the youth of my Country, if perchance I might do them some pleasure herein: beseeching your Maistership in like manner, that youre worship will for the same causes (for ye haue euer bene a louer & helper of good studies) neither be ashamed, nor displeased, to let so little and rude a thing procéde in the commendation of youre good name to the same end, séeing that here we séeke not for praise or profit, but for the prosperous good procéding of our poore youth in good learning and knowledge, which thing if youre goodnesse and patience wil do, ye shall both bind and encourage me at all times, to my power to laboure and endeouore my selfe, both to further our schooles with such poynts of my paines, and to gratifie your worship with a better work an other day, and also ye shall deserue to be the best benefactor in this businesse, and to be partaker of all their prayers, that may take profit hereby, to God for your Mastership, in helth and prosperitie, with encrease of much worship long to continue.

Amen.

There be also many other that ende in ed, but namely of two sortes, the one is of all pretertenses of verbes, both actiue and passiu: as have LOVED, amaui, isti, it.

 had REDDE, legeram, as, at.
 bene BLAMED, culpatus fui.
 was TAMED, domabar, &c.

The other is of Participles of the pretertenses, which for the most part end in ed, as

To these also may we adde certain participles, whiche being formed of Substantiues, ende in ed, like participles, as,

HEADED of head, capitatus, a.
 EYED, of eye, oculatus, a.
 CAPPED of cappe, piliatus, a.
 COTED of cote, tunicatus.

The latine of these for the most parte do ende in atus, as the examples declare.

Ther be many other in er, the which we omit for breuities sake, namely of three kyndes.

The first kynd is of the comparatiue degree, as harder, durior, of hard, durus: softer, mollior, of softe, mollis: whiter, albior, of white, albus: blacker, nigrior, of black, niger, &c.

The second kynd is of noune substantiues verbals, answering to the latins in tor and trix: as of make, facio, maker, factor: of bake, pisere, baker, pistor: of heare, audio, hearer, auditor: of rede, lego, reder, lector, &c.

The third kynd is of them that aunswer to the latins, called gentiles: as, of LONDON, Londoner, Londinensis.

of LOUAN, Louaner, Louaniensis.
of BRISTOW, Bristoner, Bristoniensis.
of PRESTON, Prestoner, Prestoniensis.
of BRITAYN, Britaner, Britannus.
of ROME, Romaner, Romanus, &c.

Where note that this laste kynde is both of countreis & cities, and their latine in ensis, and anus, as the examples declare.

There be also many other that end in nesse, deriued of adiectiues, called of grammarians substantiues denominatiues, and must be sought in the place of adiectiues in the order of metre if ye will: as of bay, baynesse: of gay, gaynesse: of glad, gladnesse: of had, badnesse, &c. Where it is to be noted, that though many write this termination in nes, as goodnes, blacknes, shortnes, &c. yet it is better to write them in nesse, as goodness, blacknesse, shortnesse, &c. Yea else some wold rede gredines, for gredinesse, for lawlines, &c. two sillables for three, the latine of these end in tas, tudo, cics, cia, ies, ias: es is also a termination commonly of the plurall number of substantiues, & be so many plural as there be substantiues singular, as stone, stones, bone, bones, way, wayes, day, dayes, &c. There be moreouer many words that ende in lesse, and be adiectiues, signifying lacke of that which the substantiue signifieth, as in these that follow.

There be also diuerse other that ende in rye here omitted for breuities sake, which may be called a kinde of denominatiues, but muche differing from the nature of them in tie or in nesse, for two causes: first that wher as those are deriued of adiectiues, and formed of the same, as of grauis, e, heauie, are formed heauinesse or grauitie: and of bonus, a, good, are formed goodnesse, or bountie, for bountie is written for bonity: these contrarie in rye are formed of substantiues: as of armour, armorie, of draper, draperie, of slaue, slaucerie, and such other: secondly bycause that where as the other do signifie for the moste parte some qualitie, as the foresayd examples declare, signifie cyther some place, as of harbour, harbourie, hospitium, of coney, conyrie, leporarium: or else some office, as of baud, baudrye, lenocinium, of begger, begger, beggerie, mendicatus, or else some instrument, as of dyet, dyetarie, diatarium: of briefe, breuiare, breuiarium, &c. fynally though these be the chiefe naturs of oure english words in rie, yet haue we not excluded certeine other which come of adiectiues and of verbs, as of braue, brauerie, splendor, of flatter, flatterye, adulatio. But bycause these be so few that they require no rule, we leue them to be obserued, noting this finally, that the other in rie, which come of substantiues, haue their latine commonly in arium, as the examples declare.

There bee also many other in tye, here for breuite sake omitted, which thou mayst form when thou wilt, of this termination tas, being one kynd of denominatiues, whose english also endeth in nesse, of which we haue sayd in this place before: neyther do they differ any thing in sense or signification, but only in the end or termination, as these that folow.

of felicitas, FELICITIE, or happy-nesse.
 of dignitas, DIGNITIE, or worthy-
 nesse.

For dignitie and worthynesse be all one: and felicitie and happynesse be all one: and so forth in others. Finally in this they only differ, that those in tye are formed of the latyn word, and the other in nesse, are formed of the english word.

10 There are also many of this kynd beside these, which are of the same signification, that those which end in able, but they differ in forming. For those in able are formed of the english theme: as speakable, effabilis; eatable, comestilis, le; treatable, tractabilis, le: of speake, eate and treat: but these in ible are formed of the latin theme: as legible, legibilis, e; audible, audibilis, le; sensible, sensibilis, le: of lego, audio, sentio, &c. Belonging : pertinens, spectans.

Belonging is also the signe of adiectiues passiuus, as, belonging the garden, hortensis, belonging the field, agrestis. The lyke is to be thought of this woorde pertheynyng, pertinens, spectans, as pertheynyng to my father, paternus, a, pertheynyng my mother, maternus, &c.

There be also certayne nounes ending in ling, here to be formed, when ye will, as

GOSLING, of goose, anserculus, i.
 DUCKLING, of ducke, anaticulus, i.
 PORKLING, of porke, porcellus, i.

These be diminutiues, & may be expounded by this signe little, as gosling, or little goose, porkling or little porke. And their Latin endeth for the most parte in ulus, or in ellus, as, anserculus, porcellus, &c.

There be also many other that end in ing, here not expressed, because they may be deriued out of verbes three maner of wayes when ye will, after this sort, first particples of the present tenses, as louing, teaching, reading, of loue, teach, rede, by putting to (ing) whose Latine is easly formed of the gerund in di, by turning di into s, as, amandi, amans, docendi, docens, legendi, &c.

2 The second kinde is of the gerundes of verbs, as amandi, of louing, docendi, of teching, legendi, of reding.

3 The third kind is of nounes verbals, whose Latine ending in io, or us, is formed of the latter supine, as, louing, amatio, onis, hæc, of amatu; reding, lectio, onis, hæc, of lectu; hearing, auditió, onis, hæc, auditus, vs; doing, actio, onis, hæc, actus, us, hic. Of al these kindes the englishe is one, but the Latine is diuers, as the examples declare.

NOTES AND CORRECTION OF LATIN WORDS.

It will be seen from the foregoing sheets that the arrangement of this dictionary is frequently confused, and that the typographical blunders in the original are numerous. It is often difficult to tell whether the spelling adopted in some places is intentional or whether it is a misprint; but it would be impossible to correct the errors and to re-arrange the form without rendering it an almost entirely new work. If the book was intended for its original purpose it might be necessary to make these alterations, but as its chief interest consists in its being in the same state as that in which it was left by its compiler, I have thought it best to reprint it word for word. Moreover, many words that at first sight appear to be misprinted will frequently be found to be correct: as, for instance, pneumaticus (col. 121, line 31), gannire, to prattle (c. 127, l. 32), which is used as well as garrire.

In the following list I have only included those words of which there is little doubt but that they are misprints; however, as modern researches have proved the so-called classical orthography to be incorrect in many particulars, and the mediæval, now treated as base, to be the better form, I do not presume to say but that Levins may be found to be right in the spelling and genders of some of these words.

The diphthongs æ and œ are frequently used for e; thus, æques (c. 20, l. 30), quærelus (c. 25, l. 28); cæte (c. 17, l. 17), cæra (c. 46, l. 10); but the reverse mistake is also made, thus, e for œ in penitentia (c. 22, l. 1), and e for æ in equinoctialis (c. 14, l. 18).

T is printed for e in commertium (c. 224, l. 35) and juditium (c. 66, l. 30), and e for t in ociosus (c. 116, l. 29), præciosus (c. 227, l. 31).

The letters y and i are often confused.

The most extraordinary blunder in the book occurs on c. 89, l. 13, where hete is explained by "gelu."

The accents to the Latin words are as frequently wrong as right; and this, unfortunately, throws a certain doubt over the accents to the English words.

An Index has been made to the latter, because it is in them that the chief interest of the book consists; but one to the Latin words has not been considered necessary.

In the copy of Levins's Manipulus Vocabulorum in the Library of the British Museum is a leaf of Errata, which is inserted after the Epistle and before the Dictionary. It was not in the copy from which I printed, nor is it in the Bodleian copy, and unfortunately I did not discover it until after the present work was finished. It is here reprinted with the pages added where the words are to be found in this edition. It will be seen that a few only of the blunders are pointed out in this list.

18. HALL MEIDENHAD, ab. 1200, ed. Rev. O. COCKAYNE.
19. LYNDSEY'S MONARCHE, ETC., Part II., ed. F. HALL.
20. HAMPOLE'S ENGLISH PROSE TREATISES, ed. Rev. G. G. PERRY.
21. MERLIN, Part II, ed. H. B. WHEATLEY.
22. PARTENAY OR LUSIGNEN, ed. Rev. W. W. SKEAT.
23. DAN MICHEL'S AYENBITE OF INWYT, 1310, ed. R. MORRIS.

A few copies are left of No. 5, Hume's Orthographie, 4s.; No. 17, Extracts from Piers Plowman, 1s.; No. 20, Hampole's Treatises, 2s.; No. 22, Partenay, 6s.; No. 23, Ayenbite, 10s. 6d.

The Society's Report, January, 1867, with Lists of Texts to be published in future years, etc. etc., can be had on application to the Hon. Secretary, HENRY B. WHEATLEY, Esq., 53, Berners Street, W.

The Subscription is £1 1s. a year [and £1 1s. (Large Paper, £2 2s.) additional for the EXTRA SERIES], due in advance on the 1st of JANUARY, and should be paid either to the Society's Account at the Union Bank of London, 14, Argyll Place, Regent Street, W., or by post-office order (made payable to the Chief Office, London) to the Hon. Secretary, HENRY B. WHEATLEY, Esq., 53, Berners Street, London, W.

The Publications for 1867 will be as many of the following texts as the subscriptions received will justify the Committee in issuing.

24. HYMNS TO THE VIRGIN AND CHRIST; THE PARLIAMENT OF DEVILS; and other Religious Poems. Edited from the Lambeth MS. 853, by F. J. FURNIVALL, Esq., M.A. 3s.
25. THE STACIONS OF ROME, AND THE PILGRIMS' SEA-VOYAGE AND SEA-SICKNESS. WITH CLENE MAYDENHOD. Edited from the Vernon and Portington MSS, etc., by F. J. FURNIVALL, Esq., M.A. 2s.
